Tips on “How to Grow a Reader”

- ★ Read to your child frequently; choose a time that both you and your child are in a good mood. Pick a favorite comfy chair to cuddle up in. Small children have a short attention span, stop reading when your child loses interest. Make book sharing time a special time!
- ★ Make books available in your home. Put books in your child’s reach, and expect that a few pages will get torn.
- ★ Talk to your child about what they see and do. Describe your day out loud as you enjoy it together. Ask questions such as, “What did you have for breakfast?” or “What is that outside the window?”
- ★ Reading and writing skills are directly linked. Provide crayons and plain paper for your child to experiment with. Pretending to write will develop into writing skills later on.
- ★ Be a good example. Children learn by watching you! Let your children see that you enjoy reading.
- ★ Make the library a weekly stop. Librarians are always available to assist you and your child to find fun, age appropriate books.
